NSS wins "Master of Excellence"-award

NSS, a supplier for the graphics industry from Pittem that is specialized in solutions for automating prepress and premedia workflows, has won earlier this month a "Master of Excellence"-award in Germany for its web-to-print application Vit2Print. This company from the region "West-Flanders" was honoured within the framework of the Corporate Media Competition 2007, a competition on a European level that stresses innovative concepts and technologies for the media industry. The competition is organized by Medienreport Verlags GmbH, The European Masterclass Community and FAC Fördergemeinschaft Audiovisual Communication. Awards are given in the categories 'Corporate Media', 'Internet & interactive applications', 'Media- and communications concepts' and 'tools, systems and hardware solutions'. Vit2Print was an award winner in this last category. Vit2Print is a modular web-to-print software suite that allows graphic companies and their customers to work on publishing tasks together via the internet. The software can be used on its own but can even be integrated in the digital asset management system by NSS, called NSS Production. The most important modules of Vit2Print are FormVit (creates ready for print PDF documents based on predefined templates), PuzzleVit (an extension on PuzzleVit, specifically useful for newspaper publishers to speed up the placement of advertisements in the newspaper lay-out), PhotoVit (digital asset management), CorrectVit (online corrections of documents) and TransVit (online translation tool). Vit2Print is used by several graphic companies in the Benelux, such as Roularta Publishing (Belgium) and Holland Ridderkerk (The Netherlands). On the picture are, from left to right: Filip Desseyen (director NSS), Helmut Joisten (Mayor Bonn), Rolf G. Lehmann (initiator Corporate Media Award) and Gerrit Bremer (director eo ipso GmbH, the German distributor of NSS products).
